Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. REPUBLICANS MEET

Nominating Convention at Indianapolis Calls Out a Great Gathering.

CHEERS AND GOOD FEELING

The Address of Senator Beveridge Sounded the Keynote of the Coming Campaign—Other Incidents of the Opening Hours.

Indianapolis, April 24.—Never in the history of state nominating conventions has there been noted so admirable an arrangement for the expedition of the business of the convention as was that which marked the physical arrangement of Tomlinson hall yesterday when the Republican state convention met for the transaction of the important matters under its consideration.

The rigid exclusion of the "mere spectators" from the body of the hall with its consequent relief afforded the delegates from the pressure which has often marred the proceedings of previous conventions, had much to do with the promptness and dispatch which marked the proceedings. To this condition Secretary Whitaker of the state central committee and his efficient corps of assistants had contributed of their foresight and energy, and there were many compliments bestowed upon them from all sides. The arrangements for the press were never more adequate, while a strict observance of the ticket system insured the seating of the hall with the minimum of confusion. Never before was there such a large representation of the press of the state, and never before were the editors so well taken care of in the arrangements provided for them.

The great hall was tastefully and beautifully draped with the national colors, while overhanging the stage were portraits of the president and the departed heroes of the Republican party, both in state and nation, together with portraits of Indiana's two senators, and Governor Durbin. In the great audience which faced

GOVERNOR DURBIN.

State Chairman Goodrich when he called the convention to order were many ladies, the brilliant colors of whose spring bonnets lent a beautiful variety to the scheme of decoration of the hall. The blaring music of an excellent brass band entertained the crowd during the time the delegates were gathering. The crowd was observant of the entrance of the convention "dignitaries," and ripples of applause greeted the entrance of Governor Durbin, Chairman Goodrich and Senator Fairbanks and the several congressmen who were in attendance.

It was shortly after 2 o'clock when Chairman Goodrich called the convention to order and announced the Rev. Worth M. Tippy of the Broadway M.

INDIANA AFFAIRS

A forceful passage of Senator Beveridge's speech, of particular interest to Indiana, is the following:

The administrations of Governor Mount and Governor Durbin have added two names to our list of Republican governors unsurpassed in fidelity, efficiency and public service by any governor in the nation; and the group of state officers that surround our governor are not outclassed by any administrators in any state of the Union. And tomorrow we will name as their successors men as good. And that, too, the kind of men Indiana Republicans have sent to Washington. The Republicans of no state in the Union have sent to the nation's capital a body of congressmen more brilliant, powerful and effective than have the Republicans of Indiana. Each man gifted with his special aptitude, as a group they embody, in solidity of worth, in practical ability, in devotion to constituents, in industry, learning, research and eloquence, a sum of public qualities that constitute a distinction to the state that sent them and an honor to themselves. Let their majorities in every district be increased.

And Indiana is proud, too, of our senior senator, whose devotion to your interests, whose ability, caution and courage make him a marked man in council and in action. He deserves the unhesitating support of the people of our state for re-election. That support in full measure and with loyal hearts he shall have, and to his seat in the highest legislative council in the world, which he has so acceptably filled, we will return him.

E. church, who in eloquent terms invoked Divine guidance in the affairs of the convention. The report of the committee on rules and permanent organization was then read and adopted. The convention was then organized by the selection of the Hon. Albert J. Beveridge, permanent chairman; Wm. H. Hoff of Hancock county, secretary, and Will H. Whitaker assistant secretary. Congressman Hemenway was delegated to escort the permanent chairman to the stage, and upon the entrance of Senator Beveridge a roar of applause swept the great hall. The senator's address was given the closest attention, and frequent and hearty applause attested the favor with which his utterances were received by his auditors.

Senator Beveridge's reference to Indiana affairs and to the Indiana delegation in congress elicited the most enthusiastic plaudits of the crowd. Particularly did his reference to his colleague, Senator Fairbanks, call for "hiss off for cheers," which were repeated with fervor when a call came from the body of the hall for cheers and a tiger for the junior senator. It is not often that a political convention, warm as such a body's emotions are likely to be, arises to a higher degree of fervor than was noted in this convention during that notable salvo of cheers for the state's representatives.

at the national capital. Senator Beveridge never spoke in easier vein than on this occasion, his well-known eloquence apparently finding new inspiration in the notable audience before him. There were points in the great speech of Senator Beveridge upon which the audience hung with breathless interest. His beautiful and singularly eloquent eulogy of the late President McKinley affected the convention most deeply, and down many a furrowed cheek in the audience among gray-headed delegates the sympathetic tears coursed in silent grief for the memory of the martyred president. Following immediately upon this came that most enthusiastic and fitting comment upon the life, career and qualities of President Roosevelt. As the emotions of the audience were aroused by reference to the late martyred president, so was the enthusiasm of the delegates aroused by this reference to his successor. The senator's peroration, emphasizing the duty of the party in the coming campaign, sounding as it did the keynote of the campaign upon which Indiana Republicans are entering, was a fitting conclusion to a notable speech, and left a distinct impression upon the convention.

Senator Beveridge spoke for an hour and a half. He was followed by calls from the convention for Senator Fairbanks. The latter responded in his usual dignified and impressive way, speaking in a general way concerning the past accomplishments and the future duties of the Republican party.

SENATOR FAIRBANKS.

and inciting the convention to further efforts in behalf of good government and sound patriotism. With a humorous anecdote Senator Fairbanks set his audience in a roar of laughter, and claimed their instant and close attention. The references Senator Fairbanks made to the departed heroes of the Republican party, Lincoln, Grant, Morton, Harrison, McKinley, furnished eulogies fitting to arouse the further patriotism of the convention and were received with unbounded enthusiasm. In referring to the manner of President McKinley's taking off he spoke of the work that is now being done toward securing legislation against anarchy, which evoked cheers.

"There are orators in the United States," said Senator Fairbanks, "speaking, not with human voice, but proclaiming the virtue of Republican politics and Republican administration with more eloquence than I or any other Republican can command. That orator is speaking upon the farms of Indiana and throughout the republic, speaking from the mines, speaking from the factories, speaking from all the great avenues of human endeavor, all in favor of the virtue of Republican policies and in favor of the continuance of the Republican administration."

"Our achievements in commerce have been great, and never so great as they are today. But we have made advance not only in commerce—we have made advance in the school, in the college and in the university. The church was never doing more for the uplifting and ennobling of humanity than it is today. All of the activities of the American people in commerce, in the ways of intelligence and philanthropy were never more active than they are today. Great as has been our commercial achievements, as much splendor as we have earned and won in the way of commerce we have given to the country, and that is why we will continue an uplifting force throughout the unnumbered years before us."

The report of the committee on credentials was then received and adopted as read. Contests were reported in Clark and Orange counties and in the Seventh ward in Indianapolis, which had been adjusted by the committee in an amicable manner.

Several of the Indiana representatives in congress being present in the audience, calls were made by the audience, not yet sated with oratory, for further speech-making, and brief and characteristic addresses were made by Congressman Watson and Hemenway, and in response to repeated calls from the audience Frederick Landis of Logansport was introduced, in his introduction Chairman Beveridge referring to him as "the silver-tongued young orator." Mr. Landis' scintillating periods took the audience by storm.

The first session of one of the most notable nominating conventions in the history of Indiana Republicanism was then adjourned.

MANY ARE INJURED

Paterson, N. J., the Scene of a Bloody Labor Riot.

STRIKERS USE FORCE

Dye Helpers Out on a Grievance Resort to Extreme Measures to Gain Their Point.

By Force of Numbers They Compel Their Peaceable Fellows to Leave Mills.

Paterson, N. J., April 24.—Striking dye helpers yesterday stormed the establishments that were still running and by force compelled a complete suspension of business in their trade. They engaged in a series of running fights with the police and plant managers, and in one of the severest clashes exchanged a volley of pistol shots with them. The radicals among the strikers were in command and hostilities ceased only after warm fighting. Many persons on either side were severely injured during the rioting, but none dangerously so. It was believed for a time that it would be necessary to ask the state for troops to restore order and insure protection to life and property, but the police expressed confidence in their ability to handle the situation, and no request for outside aid was made. Judge Wilson called the grand jury and charged them to indict the persons guilty of rioting.

The conservative element among the strikers had in the meantime disavowed the violence of their fellows and urging a return to peaceful means to gain the end that was sought. A written demand upon the employers for pay was formulated and committees opened negotiations for its consideration.

Large numbers of the strikers were sullen in spirit, and it is predicted that any attempt on the part of the employers to resume business without dealing with them would be desperately resisted. When the strikers completed their campaign against the plants in operation the number of men out was found to be nearly 4,000.

At some of the plants raided the strikers familiar with the machinery turned the steam on at full force, and it was an effective weapon in driving the workmen out.

The strikers met at Riverside again at 4 o'clock in the afternoon to receive the reports of the several shop committees. Nearly every one of the latter reported that their particular shop would agree to the wages concessions demanded if all the other shops would. The conservative leaders strongly advised the strikers to avoid violence and disavowed the attacks made on the mills during the morning. If the dyers strike is prolonged other branches of the great silk industry will be affected.

STRANGE STORY

Kansas Murder Case That Promises Something New.

Wellington, Kan., April 24.—It is believed to be the intention of John Cummings, who has acknowledged the accidental killing three years ago of Anna Dishman, his 13-year-old servant, to take the chances of going to the penitentiary in order to shield some member of his family. After he was placed under bond here yesterday for his trial next month, Cummings' attorney made the statement that his client had told him a story about the girl's death that would free him before any jury, the most remarkable tale in connection with a murder that he had ever heard, but that Cummings was sworn him to secrecy, and that he would stand trial. Cummings was arrested recently on information given by a member of his family. Since his arrest the prisoner, who is a well-to-do farmer, has deeded his farm to his wife.

Check to Building.

Chicago, April 24.—Strikes by members of the bricklayers' and stonemasons' unions caused a suspension of building operations in many portions of the city and suburbs yesterday. In the stockyards the tie-up was complete, not a trowel being in use on the buildings in course of construction for Nelson Morris & Co., Swift & Co., and the huge $2,500,000 packing house of the C. H. Hammond company.

Rejects Churchly Honors.

Philadelphia, April 24.—Rev. Nathaniel S. Thomas, rector of the Protestant Episcopal church of the Holy Apostles here, who was elected bishop of the missionary district of Salina, Kan., by the Episcopal house of bishops at Cincinnati, says he cannot accept the honor. Mr. Thomas stated that he had not notified the house of bishops of his decision, but would do so at once.

Suspicion of Murder.

Lansdale, Pa., April 24.—While fishing in a quarry hole 20 feet deep two small boys pulled ashore the body of the 16-year-old daughter of Albert Rosenbergh. The girl has been missing from her home since last November. The parents, who had hunted everywhere for her, believe that she was murdered and her body was then thrown into the quarry.

WORK OF MASKED MEN

Night Riders Seize Upon Finley Stretchberry and Nearly Beat Him to Death.

Wife of Their Victim Was Driven to Insanity By the Cruel Deed.

Nashville, Ind., April 24.—Another horrible tale of whitecapping has become known here. Early Tuesday morning 20 masked men went to the home of Finley Stretchberry, aged 40, six miles west of here, and only a few miles from the home of William Caldwell, who was almost murdered by the whitecappers the night before, and broke their way into Stretchberry's house. Stretchberry met them with a double-barreled gun and emptied one charge into the shoulder of one of the gang. The whitecappers then seized Stretchberry's wife and forced her into the kitchen. Stretchberry was then beaten over the head with revolvers and clubs until he fell to the ground. Stretchberry's hands were then tied and he was dragged to a woods near by and tied and whipped until blood flowed down his back and limbs to the ground. The whitecappers then untied their victim, took him down the road and tied him to a fence post and beat him until he was almost dead. His wife, who was recently discharged from the insane hospital, became insane from excitement, ran to the road and then into a farmer's house. She was unable to make herself understood, but the farmer rose and followed her to the place where Stretchberry lay. He was taken to his home and doctors were sent for. Both Stretchberry and Caldwell are at the point of death, and Mrs. Stretchberry's condition is most pitiable. The two whitecappings occurred within 48 hours.

A TOWN'S HEAVY LOSS

Larger Part of Idaville's Business Section Destroyed By Fire.

Idaville, Ind., April 24.—The business portion of Idaville was almost totally destroyed by fire yesterday. The fire started in the Idaville bank on the west side of Main street, and spread rapidly, owing to a high west wind. It went south to the Pilling hotel and Ireland Bros. store and north to Mrs. Bennett's grocery, then across the street to Warden's grocery, in which building was located the Idaville Observer, Shafter's barber shop, Bryan's drug store, Barnes' bakery and Reed's hardware store. The total loss is estimated at $40,000, with $8,000 insurance.

All the burned buildings were frame except the one occupied by Bryan's drug store, and had been standing many years. The town had no fire protection, and the fire raged for two hours, destroying 15 business rooms. A bucket brigade was organized and finally controlled the flames. The origin of the fire is unknown. Idaville is a prosperous town of 600, commanding a good trade with the farming community. Only three or four business rooms were left standing.

Found in the Well.

Liberty, Ind., April 24.—The body of Mrs. Adeline Shultz was found at the bottom of a well in ten feet of water. She had been dead several hours. She was 77 years old and the wife of John Shultz, a wealthy farmer in the south part of this county. When her husband went to the house from his work he did not see Mrs. Shultz, and, in a search for her, he found the well in the yard was uncovered and at the bottom was his wife. She had been ill, and it is supposed in a fit of despondency threw herself into the well.

Said to Be a Hoax.

Brazil, Ind., April 24.—After a thorough investigation of the alleged robbery of Mrs. James Baxter the police are satisfied that it is a hoax. The woman first reported a loss of $250, and a few hours later increased the amount to $500. Later she claimed the loss was $3,100. The police have been requested by her husband to let the matter drop.

CALVE'S FAREWELL

Famous Singer Turns Her Back On American Shores.

New York, April 24.—Mme. Calve sailed for Europe yesterday on the St. Paul. She said just before she went on board the steamer that she had said goodby to her American friends for the last time. She would never return here for the reason, she added, that the yearly trips were too fatiguing and also because the climate of any country but that of France disagreed with her.

EUROPE AGITATED

The First "World Trust" Gives Them the Cold Shivers.

Vienna, April 24.—The comment here is generally adverse to the Morgan steamship combine. The Neues Wiener Journal characterizes it as the first world trust, and says: "The interests of the entire world are opposed to America monopolizing the whole shipping traffic of the world, or using international navigation to develop its own export trade and serve its own political ends. The present organization contains the root of a still closer combine, of which America will be the strongest member, notwithstanding the fact that Germany is able to bring into the pool a hundred times the traffic of America, yet the superior organized financial power of the Morgan syndicate will eventually give the United States supreme control. From the standpoint of national interests the trust is the most dangerous conceivable, and it is only natural that the states affected should watch the development most closely and take every precaution possible. It may be found necessary to extend the system of state ownership to the sphere hitherto left exclusively to private initiative. Yet state ownership of the commercial marine would greatly reduce its mobility and give fresh advantage to America, which has other means of defending and concentrating its own interests."

THE POISE

Of a woman in perfect health attracts the eye at once. Such a woman is all too rarely seen. The most of women bear scars of suffering on their faces which no smiles can hide, and often in their very carriage betray the womanly weakness which oppresses them.

There can be no perfect health for the woman who suffers from disease of the delicate womanly organism. Her general health is so intimately related to the local health of the womanly organs that these must be cured before the general health can be established. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures womanly disorders and diseases; brightens the dull eye, rounds out the hollow cheek and gives strength for wifely duties and maternal cares.

"My health is the best now that it has been for four years," writes Mrs. Phoebe Morris of Ira, Cayuga Co., N. Y., Box 52. "I have taken but two bottles of your medicine, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines have done me more good than all that I have ever taken before. I couldn't do my work only about half the time, and now I can work all the time for a family of four. Before I took your medicines I was sick in bed nearly half the time. My advice to all who are troubled with female weakness is to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery'—the most wonderful medicines in the world."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
